- 1 Beijing rejected Anthropic CEO Dario Amodei's call for a global AI slowdown as 'fear mongering,' with state media branding it a Cold War tactic and China's Ministry of State Security issuing a rare public warning on AI risks.
- 2 Taiwan's NSC adviser Huang Chung-yen said Beijing's gray-zone pressure and diplomatic tour are aimed at building leverage ahead of Xi Jinping's planned Sept. 24 Washington visit.
- 3 The 13th Beijing Xiangshan Forum opens Sept. 15-17 with delegations from nearly 100 countries as China injects further liquidity, a 500 billion yuan reverse repo Sept. 15, into an economy Bloomberg says is entering a decisive stimulus phase.

CROSS-STRAIT

Taiwan NSC: China building leverage ahead of Xi-Trump summit

National Security Council adviser Huang Chung-yen said Beijing's overseas diplomatic tour, gray-zone pressure across the first island chain, and expanding trade surplus through low-priced exports are meant to create 'final pressure' before Xi Jinping's planned Sept. 24 Washington visit. Huang said Xi's trips to the SCO summit in Kyrgyzstan, Egypt and the BRICS summit in India are aimed at securing negotiating leverage abroad while projecting economic strength at home despite China's downturn.
